

Central Coast APS members gather most months between March & November for a slowly paced walk in local bushlands. Some of the group like to be told the name of a plant while others prefer to key out the plant themselves. Photographers also enjoy the slow pace as do others who simply prefer to stroll along enjoying the environment and company. There are usually people in the group who might be able to guide fellow walkers to the correct name of a particular plant.